IN THE SCHOOL
TO GO

GOT A'S
IN ALL
MY TESTS.

AND ALL
WOULD ASK ME,
"HOW DID YOU
DO IT,
JOEY?"

AND I
TOLD THEM,
"I STUDIED."

SO THEY
PLAY WITH ME ANYMORE.
"THE BRAIN!"
THEY CALLED ME. "THE PROFESSOR!"

EVEN MY FATHER!
"I WANT
YOU TO BE A

HE YELLED
AT ME.

SO WE

NOW IN THE NEW

I STILL GET A'S
IN ALL
MY TESTS.

STILL ASK ME, "HOW

BUT NOW
CHEATED."

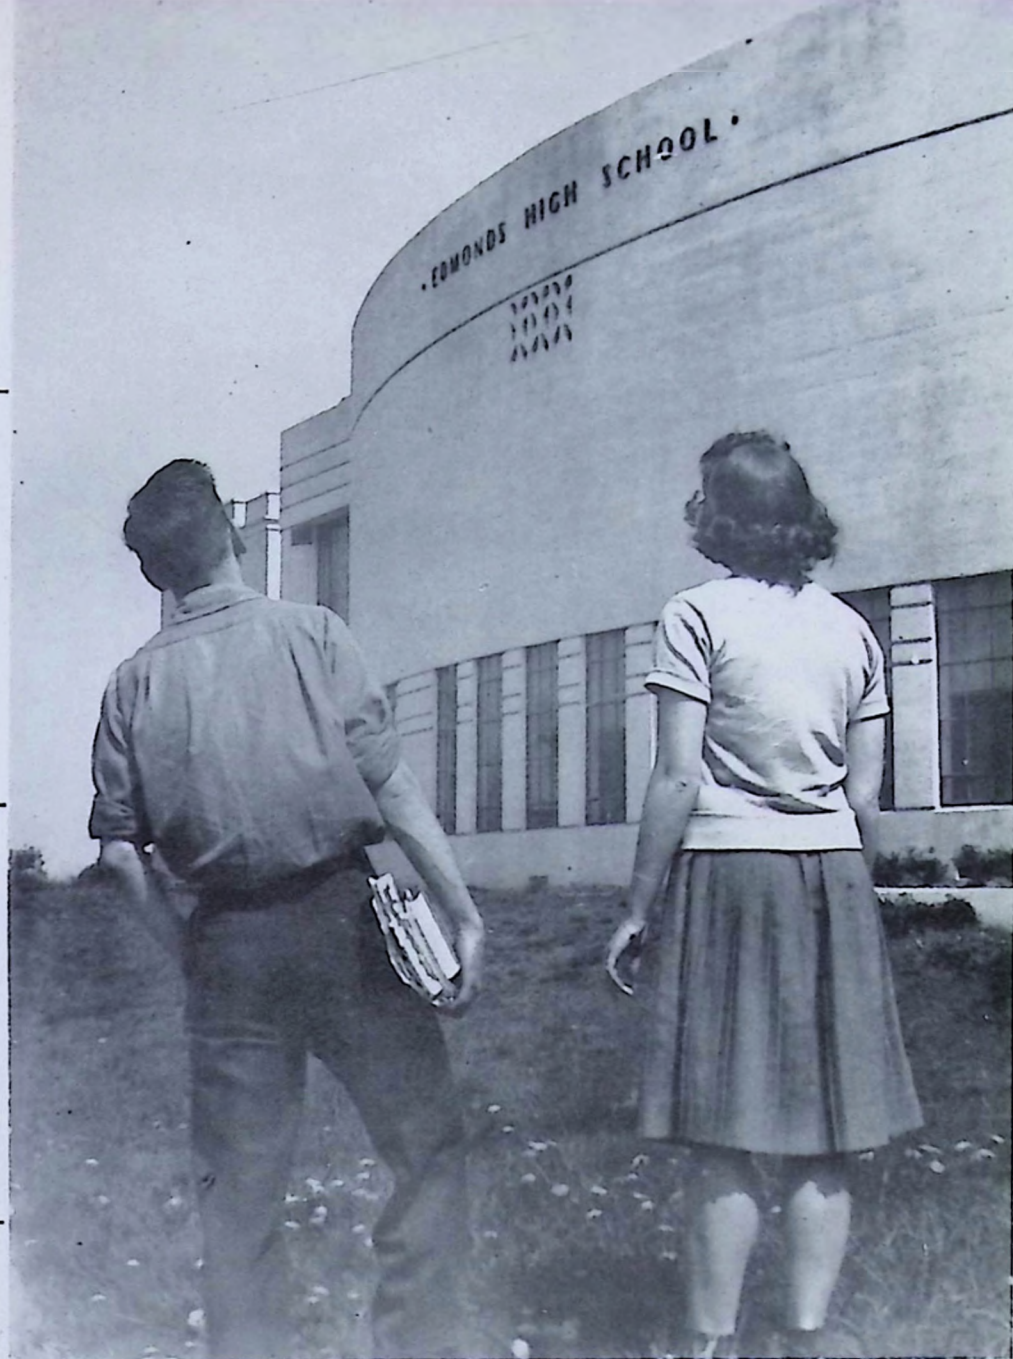

IT'S GREAT

Dedication

We, of Edmonds High School dedicate the 1942 edition of the Echo to Mrs. Fae McEachern in recognition of the splendid work she did not only in the music department, but the athletic and dramatic departments as well. Popularly known as "teach", she brought honors to Edmonds high through her never-ending interest in promoting school activities.

Best wishes to a grand teacher we'll always remember.

Administration

Superintendent Glen G. Hill, Principal G. Mason Hall.
School Board: Matt Eisen, Leo Echelbarger, Nelle M. Telfer.

Superintendent's Message

Even as The Echo staff prepares this year book, we carry on in the most critical period in our country's and the world's history. We are almost too near these dramatic events, rushing so swiftly along, to recognize their vital and tremendous significance. Yet, all the years of our lives we will recall the great happenings during this school year, particularly those following Pearl Harbor.

In time to come, when we hearken back to these days, will we be able to say we did our part in all the various ways, so necessary to defend and preserve our homes, our schools, our community, our state, our nation?

Today, service and sacrifice are the two demands we all must meet. The measure of our real success in life will always have to take into account how we met those demands. Whether we are in or out of school, and whether or not we have completed our education, the current of affairs flows swiftly now for everyone. We are in the grip of titanic forces struggling for mastery. For Right to prevail, there will be demanded from each and every one of us a simple, forthright devotion to God and country not equalled since those early days when freedom was first born on our shores.

Sincerely,
GLEN G. HILL.

Leading the class in football were Ted Wans, Bill Gibbens, Fred Specht, Dale Echelbarger, Alvin Barrett, and David Nielsen.

Receiving awards for junior high basketball were Bob Meredith, Frank Peterson, Bob Ramaley, Don Eney, Richard Walter, Richard Brooks, Stanley Johnson, Jack Johnson, Douglas Daniels, and Emmett Aillaud.

The class chose Jean Kelly, president; Louise Siefert, vice-president; and Irene Johnson, secretary, for second semester officers.

Betty Macomber and Walter Koepp saw action in the board of control meetings.

Winding up their first year of high school on the track squad were several boys who in another year will be good material for the high school varsity.

The freshmen girls were also prominent in athletics.

Eighth Grade

At the first class meeting Balfour Hill, Patty Davis, Douglas Jacobson and Beverly Goodwin were elected to fill the offices of president, vice-president, secretary, and Board of Control member respectively. The girls chose Gloria Winnem as their Girls' Club representative.

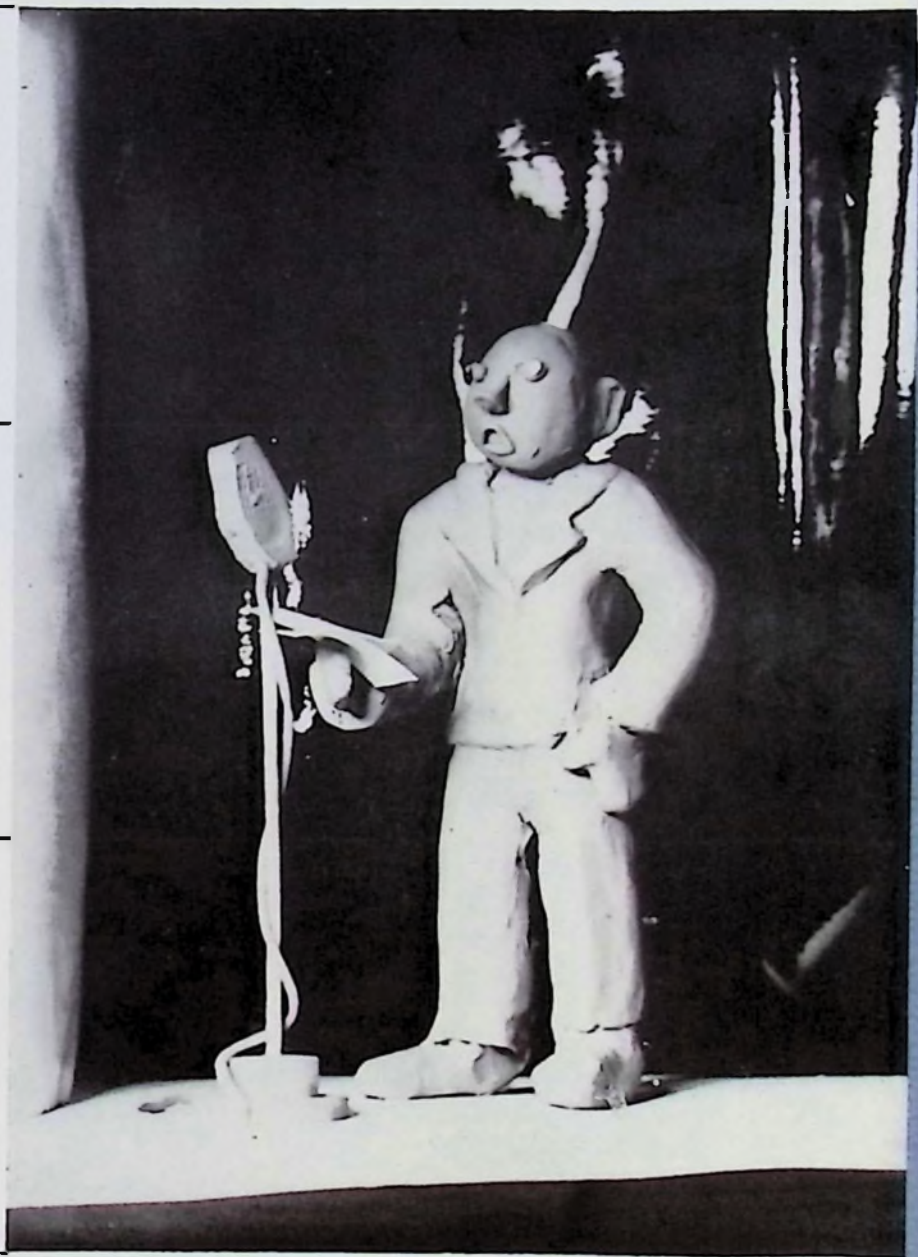

The three committees that worked on the Christmas party were made up of the following: games, Allen Kretzler, Douglas Jacobson, Patty Davis, Betty Hubbard, and Shirley Ballinger. Refreshment, Mary Douglas, Glen Granger, Tommy Borgford, and Shirley Barkemeyer, and the program committee was composed of Margaret Ann Smith, Jay Platt, Willard Kunz and Gloria Winnem.

The second semester officers were: Ralph Sorenson, president; vice-president, Gloria Winnem; secretary, Jim Emery; and Shirley Ballinger as Board of Control member. Betty Hubbard was Girls' Club representative.

During the campaign for library books a contest was held between the boys and the girls. The boys brought in the largest number of books so they won the ice cream and cake. Marilou Eide had charge of the refreshment committee.

All in all it was a year the eighth grade will always remember.

Band and Orchestra

The Band, under the direction of William Osborn, helped keep up the spirits of the students by playing at practically every home game during the basketball and football seasons.

During the year the Orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Fae McEachern, first semester, and W. H. Osborn, second semester, gave an all-school assembly, provided back-ground music for a program put on by the lettergirls' organization, and played between acts of the senior and junior plays. On the latter occasion George Cooper, concert-master, waved the baton. Following their usual custom, the orchestra played Christmas carols in the halls the week before the holidays.

Both organizations climaxed the year of work with a highly satisfactory performance at the County Music Festival in Everett.

Chorus and Glee Club

Chorus, with an enrollment of thirty-four had as their director this year, Mrs. Josephine Jaynes.

Taking an active part in many programs, this group sang for P.T. A., the Christmas assembly, and in the halls during the Christmas season.

Something new to Chorus was the making of records which were heard over station KEVE in Everett on a special Edmonds Hour.

Representing Edmonds, Chorus attended the Snohomish County Music Festival held at Everett.

The Glee Club, consisting of fifteen girls, mostly upper-classmen, had a very active year. They provided entertainment at two P.T. A. meetings and took part in the final all-school assembly before Christmas. Also, to add to the holiday mood, the girls sang carols in the halls. Later in the year they made several records for a radio program, and, to wind up the season, participated in the Snohomish County Music Festival.

Trio of Songsters, Rosalie Larson, Joan Nehl, Irene Johnson; Anybody got a match?; Melodie Lawson—need we say more? Mildred Wood—would you?; Bobbie and Joan in "We were Dancing"; Bob Apple-gate, Ray Pennock, Dick Osgood, Dick Coyne, Garrie Harring, Jim Anderson, Otho Halligan, and the Osgood Melodrammer.

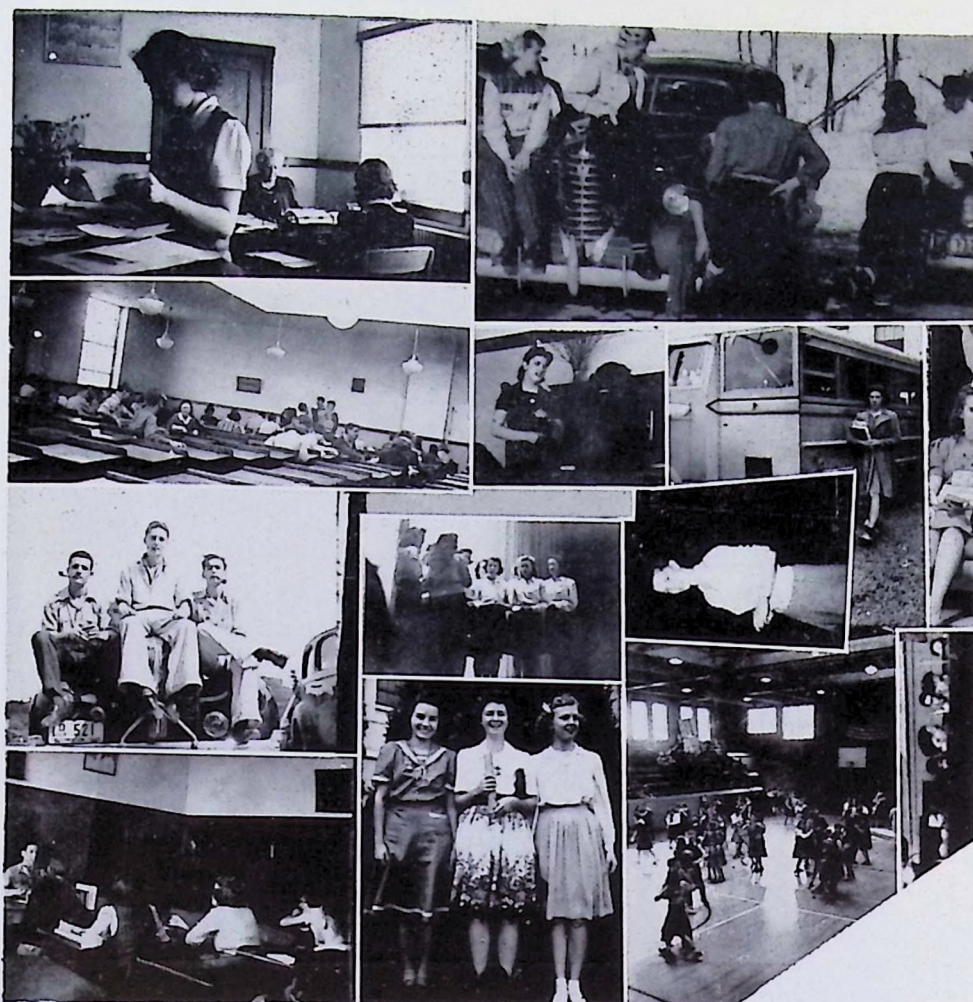

Carnival

The Victory Carnival sponsored by the P.-T. A. and the Edmonds high school student body, took the place of the vodvil, which is usually held at Edmonds every year. It proved a success not only financially but in that it was enjoyed by everyone who attended.

The P.-T. A. managed the carnival booths, which consisted of stands of Bingo, the fish pond, novelties, and refreshments of all kinds. The patrons also amused themselves by dancing to the music of the high school juke box.

Two, thirty minutes, vodvil acts were sponsored by the high school students, Capers One and Capers Two. Those who took part in Capers One were as follows. baton twirling, Clara Stadler; a victory singing trio, Gloria Tutmark, Patty Hill, and Lorraine Eisen; a clarinet solo was played by Ray Pennock, the title of which was "The Herd Girl's Dream."

A Hawaiian act was a novelty which we have never had before. Gloria Goodson, and Effie Jean Trammel danced a hula, while Dorothy Korshaven, Jean Olson, and Betty June Thompson sang, accompanied by Fredalee Akers with her electric guitar.

Familiar isn't it?.....Said one boy to another, quote, Yeah we went sheing yesterday and boy was the hunting good! unquote.....The only place in the school were you can't study.....She's the daughter of Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair.....The end of a perfect day, or, Who are you kidding bud?.....He said No, I said Please—or is it the other way round?.....He-Men—Huh?.....So I am going to Snohomish.....The Curry.....Our board of control is in control.....Maybe I'll stay home after all.....Let's squirm worm.....We're tired of thinking of titles—you think of this one!

Snapshots

A Baby Snooks Act by Joan Applegate and Barbara Webb was next on the program. Josephine Ray then sang "The Shrine of Saint Cecilia."

Dick Osgood, Jim Anderson, Garrie Harring, Dick Coyne, Otho Halligan, Bob Applegate, and Ray Pennock took part in a skit which was sponsored by the Boys' Club.

Thus ended Capers One.

Capers Two consisted of entirely different talent.

A girls sailor quartette consisting of Ragna Ellingsen, Irene Johnson, Rosalie Larsen, and Joan Nehl, sang several patriotic numbers. Melodie Lawson's acrobatic dancing thrilled each and every patron. "The Last Time I Saw Paris" was presented by the advanced French classes and was accompanied by George Cooper, master of ceremonies, and Mary Neal on the violin and viola respectively. Those who took part in the act were as follows: Dorothy Korshaven, June Sorensen, Betty June Thompson, Shirley Dawes, Betty Stadler, Harold Wilcox, Jean Paige, Clara Lys er, Jean Swanson, Maxine Widger, Marguerite Milton, Joan Applegate and Barbara Webb.

Then the curtain fell on the Tea Pot skit made up of three and a half of our big (?) football boys. (Frank Hoff, Ted Trager, and Harold Bucklin and Otho Halligan).

Revising the Constitution was the first duty of George Cooper, second semester president. Assisting him were Ted Trager, vice-president, and Jean Hill, secretary.

For May the Board of Control scheduled an "All-School Assembly." Previous to this they had planned the "Carnival Carpers" which took the place of the annual school vodvil.

Other members are Dale Holtcamp, vice-president; Kathleen Ryan, Ralph Henry, Sally Horning, Mary Thompson, Louise Alseth, Curtis Larson, Jim Ballou, and Irma Gust. New members this year were Bob Olson and Otho Halligan.

This club made all the posters that were seen around school including those for football, basketball, Junior Play, Senior Play, Junior dance, Tolo, Homecoming, Christmas posters, and all election posters.

They held their initiation last fall in which they gave the neophytes "the works" and afterwards enjoyed a movie.

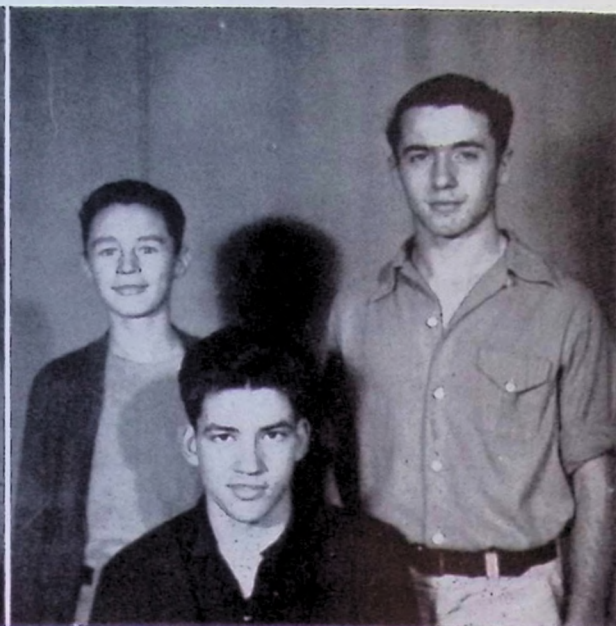

For weeks afterwards there were pop bottles and buns lying up in the shack and a bottle of mustard can still be seen reposing in a secluded corner.

During this last semester they switched advisers because of a faculty change. The new adviser is Mr. Paul McGibbon.

First row: Gloria Halstead.
Second row: Marilyn Brine, Nancy Smith, June Sorensen.

First row: Bob Applegate.
Second row: Unis Carlson, Jim Hardman.

Girls' Club

The Girls' Club of Edmonds High School is the sponsor of many activities. During the past year this organization took a most important part in school events. Under the leadership of Nancy Smith, president; June Sorensen, vice-president; Marilyn Brine, secretary; and Gloria Halstead, treasurer, it spent an active year.

To start the new year, Mrs. Josephine Jaynes was appointed new adviser to the Girls' Club.

The main event of the early spring season was the Snohomish County Girls' Club Conference, at which the girls of Edmonds High School were hostesses. June Sorensen, this year's vice-president, received the honor of being elected County President for the 1942-1943 term. A patriotic theme of red, white, and blue was carried out throughout the conference.

The selling of candy and milk in the Club Shoppe proved an unusual success. Girls who merit special recognition for work in the shop are: Shirley Dawes, Shirley Clark, June Sorensen, Jean Paige, Virginia Ettrup, Mary Plumer, Suzanne Richards, and Nona Yost.

Sponsoring several mixers throughout the year the girls practiced up on their "jitter bugging."

Highlighting the whole season was the Tolo "Hula Hop" on March 19th. According to all reports this first program dance went over successfully. The girls escorted their favorite (?) boy friends and all swung and swayed with Kenny Cloud's Com-modores. Dancing amid pastel streamers and crepe paper flowers, all had a most enjoyable time.

The final event of the season was the annual Mother's Day Tea held on May 1st. A varied program was given by the members of the Girls' Club and following came a social hour with refreshments, during which the mothers and daughters took part in festivities.

Committees for the year which certainly should receive a very honorable mention were: June Sorensen, Program; Cathryn Sater, Social Service; Elizabeth Plunkett, Vocational; Barbara Riedel, Grade School Counselors; Betty Mathay, Health; Jean Whitlatch, Tolo; Carol Foard, Mother's Tea; Grace Demmery and Gloria Halstead, Financial; and Jo Ann Davis, Standards.

Boys' Club

Heading the Boys' Club this year were Jim Hardman, president; Bob Applegate, vice-president; and Unis Carlson, secretary.

Under their new leader, Superintendent Glen G. Hill, the Edmonds High School Boys' Club started off the school year with new ambition and enthusiasm.

The club consists of all the boys in the high school. Trying a new system to share the several tasks, these boys were divided up into groups of ten; two from each grade including the eighth grade. The purpose of these groups was to start intramural sports between the different groups of boys and to divide the boys evenly to perform different duties, such as cleaning the yard and assisting the lower classmen in their school studies.

Campus Day, the day which the whole school spent in cleaning up the school grounds and building, gave the members of the Boys' Club an excellent chance to show their ability to do manual labor as well as school studies.

In February, the boys co-sponsored a smoker. In this smoker thirty boys took part. The smoker was exciting and was enjoyed immensely by the whole audience.

The big and main event of the year for the boys was their annual "Dad's Night." The program, planned especially for the dads and boys, consisted of several acts put on by some of the boys. The speaker was Mr. J. C. Herbsman of Seattle. As usual, this event was concluded with refreshments for the boys and their dads.

Dad's Night committee: Bob Applegate, Ray Pennock, Ernest Bjorg, Ed Phelan, Ralph Van Nortwick, and Otho Halligan.

Echo

Editor Betty Ross and her staff have finished the 1942 issue of the Echo under the advisorship of Paul McGibbon.

Administering the class organizations was Barbara Riedel. Those who worked under here included Roxaine Carter and Mary Neal, senior copy; June Sorensen and Barbara Webb, junior copy; Cathryn Sater and Kathleen Ryan, sophomore copy; Pat Pickett and Elizabeth Plunkett, freshmen; and Delores Flattum, eighth grade.

Activity make-up, under the direction of Jo Ann Davis, included Betty Stadler, publications; Jo Ann Davis and Mary Plumer, honoraries; Shirley Dawes and Lorraine Eisen, dramatics; Dorothy Jennings and June Beck, music; Joann Holmes, debate.

Handling associated students, Girls' Club, and Boys' Club were Carol Foard, Nancy Smith, Val Thomson, and Bob Cox.

Art Editor Le Roy Middleton had a staff composed of Bob Gibbons, Jo Ann Platt, and Jean Whitlatch. Many thanks go to Miss Mildred Moe for the help and encouragement she gave the art staff.

Writing girls' and boys' sports were Jane Orner, Virginia Ettrup, Ray Pennock, Jim Anderson and Dick Coyne.

Pat Morgan was in charge of administration copy, while Grace Demmery tried her hand at page make-up.

Photography enthusiasts were Bob Olson, Garrie Haring, and Bob Whiting.

To the business manager, Scotty McClenney, and Valerie Masson, Corene Drake, Lillian Peterson, Alice Little, Carol Foard, Nona Yost, Joanne Holmes, Audrey Brown, and Harold Skutvik, a large bouquet of roses should be sent. This year's staff increased the earnings over past years' staffs a great deal. The thankless job of managing the candy selling was taken by Valerie Masson. Identification was a job most of the staff helped with, including Marilyn Cooper, Nancy Sorensen, and Margaret Ann Smith and members of the selling staff.

Now that the Echo is complete we say farewell and wish the best of luck to next year's staff.

Wireless

Changing the makeup of the paper, the first semester Wireless Staff got off to a good start under the management of Betty Stadler as editor-in-chief, with the following persons making up the rest of the staff: James Anderson, Dick Coyne, Jo Ann Davis, Joann Holmes, Betty Mathay, Barbara Riedel, and Nancy Smith.

The only contest which the staff participated in was the Quill and Scroll National News and Editorial Writing. Betty Stadler received third place in the news identification division on the Pacific Coast, while Dick Coyne was given honorable mention in editorial writing.

The new masthead which was used throughout the year was made by LeRoy Middleton, and flush-to-the-left headlines were incorporated to bring our paper up to date, since these heads are fairly new in the field of Journalism.

With Carol Foard at the helm the second semester again changed the makeup of the Wireless. Carol received a full-tuition scholarship last summer to attend the summer section in Journalism at Northwestern University at Evanston, Illinois.

The staff for this semester was larger than the last since some of the old staff was retained. Those who made up the staff were: Bob Cox, and Jo Ann Davis as associate editors, Dick Hill, Joann Holmes, Jane Orner, James Anderson, Grace Demmery, Shirley Dawes, Kathleen Ryan, Betty Stadler and Val Thomson.

Miss Dorothy Allison, adviser, left in the middle of the year to take a government position. She was reputed to be one of the best journalism teachers in the state and students and faculty alike were sorry to see her leave.

Torch

"Is my mustache straight? Oh heavens—that's my cue!" "Golly, we've made $6.87 already!"

Such remarks were made by Torch Honor Society members as they participated in the various activities sponsored by the group, under the able leadership of Prexy Jane Orner and Mrs. Hallie B. Anderson, adviser.

An enthusiastically received variety show was presented and one of the most successful mixers was held by Torch during the year. A Torch bulletin board was maintained in the library, and correspondence was carried on with honor societies of other nearby schools.

Quill and Scroll

The Homer A. Post chapter of the journalism honorary suffered the loss of its adviser, Miss Dorothy Allison, who was really "the perfect teacher" to those who knew and worked with her. Consequently, the organization, which elected Jo Ann Davis, president, was deficient in its usual activities.

Part of the year's work was the preparation of a freshman handbook for new students in the interest of making them feel at home. Also assisting were people from outside the organization.

Thespians

Troupe 424 of the National Dramatic Honorary, with Dorothy Jennings as president, purchased a group of costumes that were in constant use during the year.

Proceeds from a successful mixer and bake sale were used to complete payments on the costumes.

Two original comedies on Tolo were given in March, a play was presented at the Torch assembly, and a group of one act plays at the end of the year completed the Thespian activities.

First row: Grace Demmery, Wanda Goble, Dorothy Jennings, Carol Foard, Shirley Dawes, Patricia Morgan, Betty Hawkings.

Letterwomen

The Letterwomen, headed by Dorothy Korshaven worked as co-sponsors for Homecoming on October 3.

On January 27, an initiation banquet was held for neophytes. The hilarious evening ended in roller skating.

From their treasury, they added a filing cabinet to their belongings in which are stored the athletic records of all girls.

In the spring after holding a bicycling-bowling party at Green Lake they wound up the year with their initiation and election of next year's officers at Echo Lake.

Lettermen

The Lettermen, having elected Walt Ewing as their president for this year, were co-sponsors of the first event of the year, the Homecoming Dance.

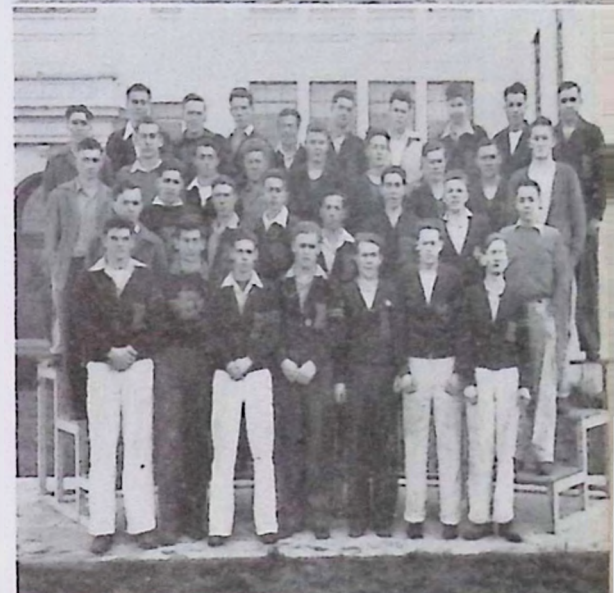

Their next occasion was a banquet at the Superintendent's residence for the football boys as a climax to an exciting season of football. After a delicious dinner some of the players spoke. Later after a brief session of community singing, they elected Ted Trager as next year's captain and Walt Ewing, receiver of the inspirational award.

First row: Tom Bookey, Dick Hill, Myron Sjoblom, Ivan Shilling, Jack Tuson, Frank Nupp, Otho Halligan.

Stage Crew

The Stage Crew under the leadership of Mr. Duncan (Unky Dunk) Jacobson elected Jack (Waldo) Larmore as Stage Manager. Theirs is the job of staging all plays, assemblies, and festive occasions.

They held their initiation early in the spring and took in Max (Shorty) Howlett, Melodie (Harmony) Lawson, Joan (Brenda) Ellison, Carl (Pretty Boy) Trager, and John (Speedy) Lowden.

The messiest time they had was a calcimine-sliding party during work on the props for the Junior and Senior Plays.

First row: Wanda Goble, Betty Hawkins, Lois Hathaway, D. A. Jacobson, advisor.

Second row: Bob Kallstrom, Dale Holteamp, Ted Trager, Jack Larmore.

Future Farmers of America

With the introduction of agriculture into the high school curriculum a new organization came into existence, the Edmonds Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Starting out the year's activities with an array of judging contests the Future Farmers participated in many contests.

The Livestock judging team, composed of Ed Phelan, Ralph Van Nortwick, and Grant Bishop, participated in contests at Lynden, Puyallup, and Portland. The Poultry judging team composed of Charles Carter, Gerald Bookey, Jim Hardman, and Kent Echelbarger, entered contests at Lynden and Arlington. Participating in potato judging contests at Mount Baker, Fife, Mount Vernon, and Ellensburg, were Grant Bishop, Ed Phelan, Ralph Van Nortwick, Kenny Weiding, and Walt Ewing. The final contest of the year was a milk products judging contest at Arlington. The team judging was composed of Jim Bookey, Frank Cotterill, and Grant Bishop.

Some of the money making schemes of the year have been the introduction of Smokeless Smokers, the buying and selling of three tons of potatoes, custom pruning, the purchasing of two pure-breed Chester-White gilts for co-op projects, planting of five acres of sweet corn and five acres of potatoes, and last of all the purchasing of a new Ford tractor and implements.

The officers for the year were president, Grant Bishop, vice-president, Ed Phelan; secretary, Gerald Bookey; treasurer, Charles Carter; reporter, Ralph Van Nortwick; watchdog, Jim Hardman. The advisor was Harold Silvernail.

First row: Dan Brooks, Alvin Korshaven, Kenneth Bond, Tom Hartvedt, Kent Echelbarger, Gerald Bookey.

The Debate team this year came through with honors in spite of its small size. Ray Pennock and Otho Halligan each won an excellent rating in the district debate meet held at Bellingham, February 4. At the meet the subject discussed was: "What Should be the Permanent Policy of the National Government in Regard to the Military Training of Youth?" Each participant spoke eight minutes.

In regard to the size of this years team, G. F. Hatch, adviser of the group states, "There were ten or more who signed for debate in the first semester, but were unable to continue the work on account of the demands of other extra-curricular activities. Any remedy for this situation would have to be found in the formation of a special class in the sophomore or junior years. The present English classes all have other purposes of their own. The Public Speaking class as now organized is a substitute for other English and is generally attended by seniors who will be unlikely to prepare for any special work in debate."

First row: Raymond Pennock.
Second row: Otho Halligan, Robert Thomas, G. F. Hatch, coach.

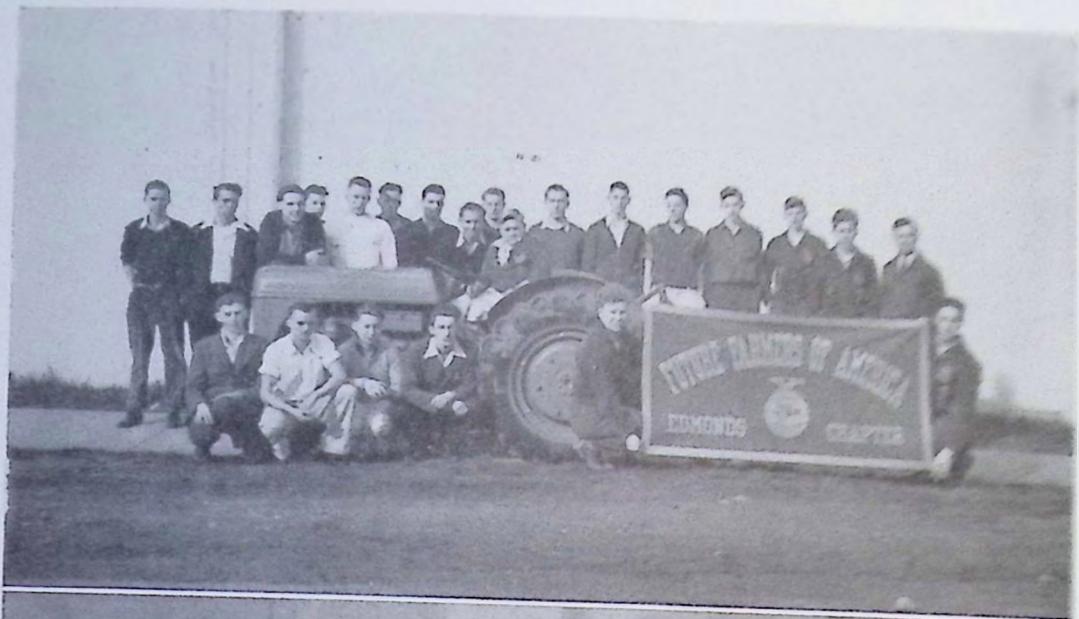

Librarians

Among members of the student body who give a lot of service and receive less publicity than most, are the boys and girls who assist Mrs. Anderson in the library. To the average borrower who absentmindedly thrusts a book under their noses to be checked, the librarians appear to lead the life of Riley behind the window.

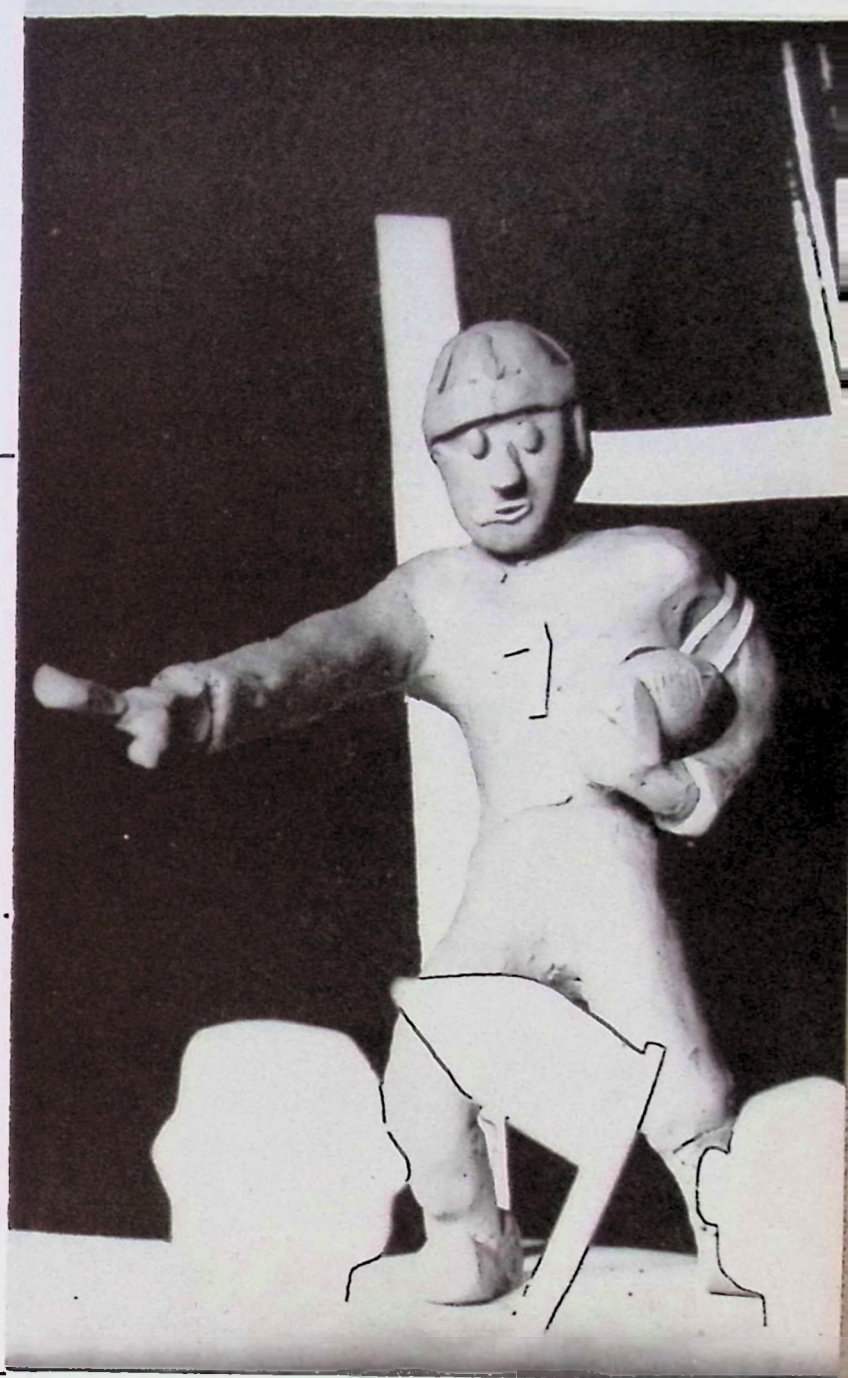

Actually the library is a well organized system where each person strives to keep it that way. It's no easy job to keep accurate track of the whereabouts of each and every book in the library.

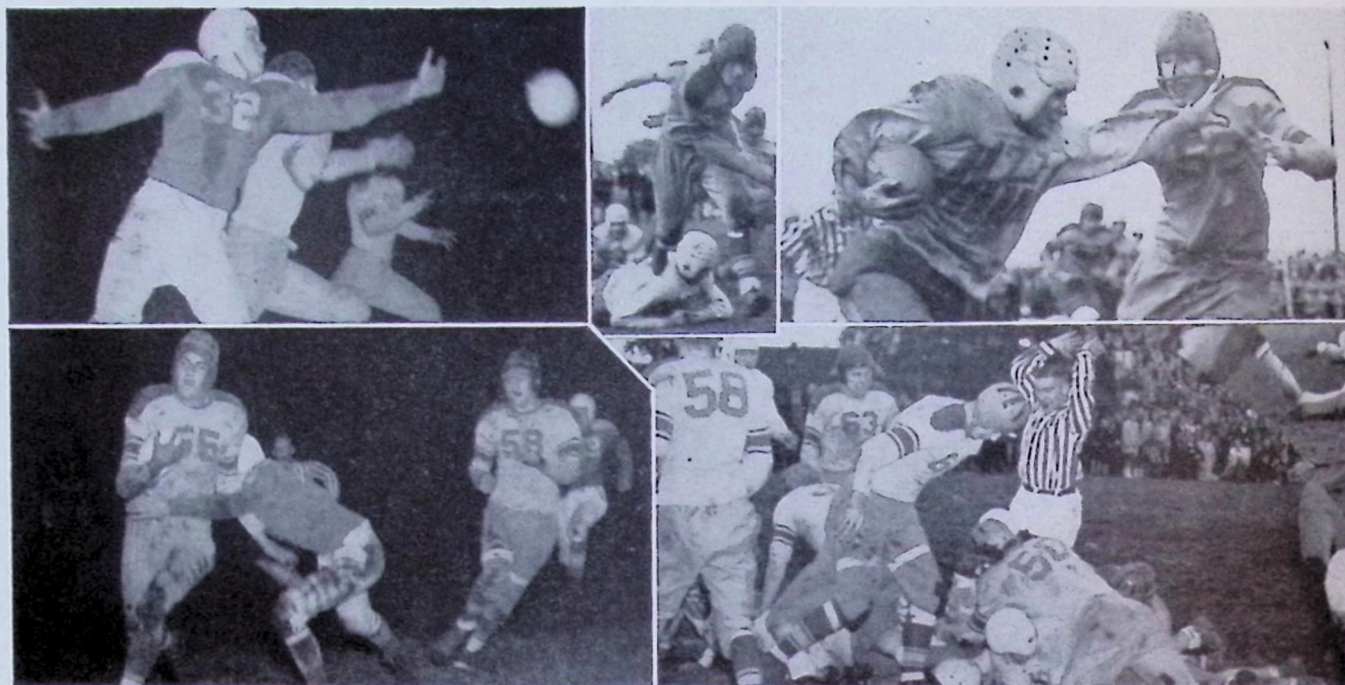

Thanks to the efficiency of Mrs. Anderson and the librarians, we have very helpful reference service.

First row: Mardelle Fletcher, Mary Plumer, Janet Chard, Delores Flattum, Dolly McArthur, Hallie B. Anderson, head librarian.

Football

Co-Champions for the second straight year!

The 1941 Co-Champs, with ten lettermen and some twenty other recruits, won two games for every one they lost.

Getting off on the right foot in the opening encounter of the season, the Tigers downed Bellevue 6 to 0 in a close, hard fought game. Touchdown: Dick Osgood.

Fumbles deep in their own territory almost sunk the Tigers in the next game with Kirkland as a thirteen point lead built up in the first half dwindled to one point the first half; Kirkland all their twelve points the second. Touchdowns: Babe Bucklin 2. Try for point: Frank Hoff.

Any hopes of an undefeated team vanished when O'Dea invaded the Tiger stronghold and registered a 20-0 win. The Irish had power when it was needed while the Edmonds attack was halted three times within O'Dea's thirty yard stripe.

Arlington's heralded passing attack bogged down in the mud and rain of the next game. Result: Edmonds ran up a 19 to 0 victory and scored their first conference triumph. Touchdowns: Babe Bucklin 2; Frank Hoff. Try for point: Hoff.

Conquering Snohomish 32-0, Edmonds swept into the "A" League lead with their most impressive victory of the season. This game contained everything from brilliant runs of 40 and 50 yards to driving plunges, the combination of which amply showed the versatility of the Tiger offense. Touchdowns: Ted Trager 2; Babe Bucklin 2; Bill Tuson. Try for points: Tuson 2.

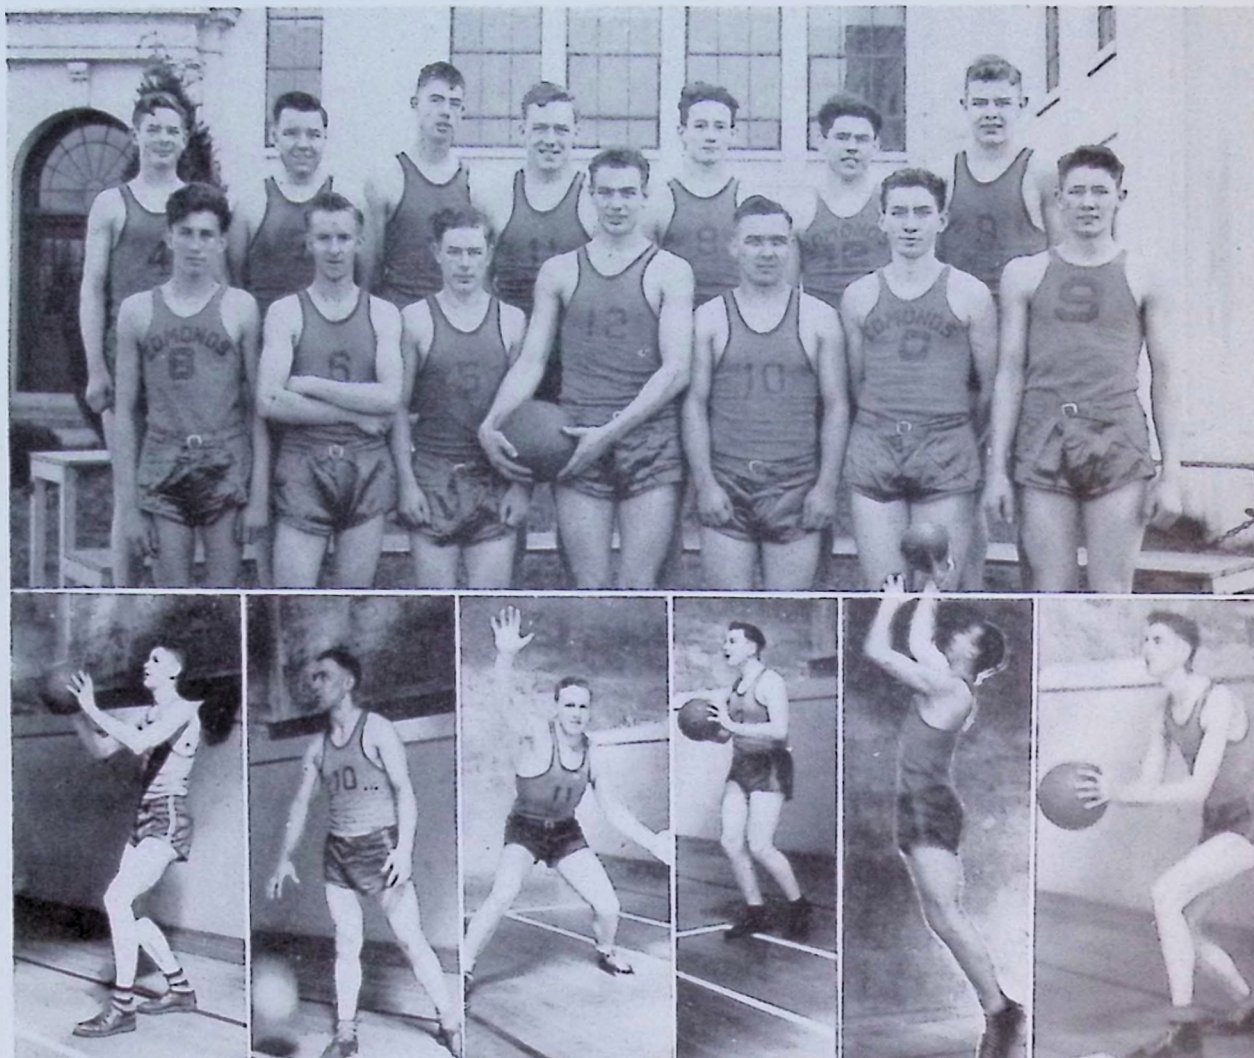

12 to 0 was the score of the next battle with Monroe. After this game Edmonds was the only undefeated and the only unscored upon team in "A" League competition. Touchdowns: Jim Hardman; Babe Bucklin.

Journeying to Mount Vernon on Halloween, the Tigers forgot what this night stands for long enough to tally an 18-6 win and their fourth consecutive victory. Touchdowns: Captain Walt Ewing; Frank Hoff; Babe Bucklin.

Let's see! Co-Champions? That brings to mind a 27 to 0 drubbing suffered by the Tigers at Marysville on Armistice Day. Marysville was hot and Edmonds wasn't. That about tells the story except for a few too numerous fumbles by Edmonds setting up most of the Tomahawk's scores.

In a benefit game for the Edmonds team, O'Dea returned for a post-season game and, although the locals played much better ball than in their first encounter with the Irish, the visitors won 19-6. Touchdown: Babe Bucklin.

Graduating gridders, all letter winners this year, include: Anderson, Applegate, Bishop, Cooper, Drechsler, Hardman, Hoff, Osgood, Shilling, Sumey, and Ewing.

Basketball

Opening their 1941-42 season with two lettermen, the highest of hopes and the possibilities of becoming a county winner, the Edmonds Tigers weathered through one of their worst seasons in history.

The Tigers showed excellent spirit and plenty of fight but they just didn't seem to have the punch to carry through with. Too, perhaps some of the failures were due neither to the team nor coach, but merely to circumstances. This was Harold Nelson's first year at coaching the Tigers and perhaps the fact that new systems of offense and defense were incorporated explains the Tiger's poor season.

Coach Nelson, despite this record, should be handed the hardest of congratulations for he did a brilliant job in both instructing and coaching the team. His appearance on the gym floor will be anxiously awaited by basketball fans next year.

The Tiger's practice season was no better than their conference playing for from the outset they met defeats and in fact effected but one victory. Their play did have one enlightening prospect, however and that was their close scores. Never were the Tigers given a real trouncing.

In a basketball jamboree held at Snohomish the Tigers met Arlington and in their playing time were beaten by a 8-5 score.

For the first conference game the Tigers traveled to Monroe where they engaged the Bearcats who turned them back by a 26-18 tally. The first team visiting the Tiger's gym was the O'Dea Irish who just made their debut in the County A league this year. This game marked one of the hardest fought battles that Edmonds played and it was just one of those many almost-victories. The final score was 25-24.

Arlington traveled here for the next hoop tangle and turned back a fighting Edmonds five to the tune of 25-24. There it was again, the same old story. The Tigers traveled to Marysville and received their worst beating of the season. The score was 59-34—a real tribute to the fighting Hawks.

The Panthers of Snohomish tackled the Tigers next and rambled off with a 32-28 victory only after a hard fight. Monroe made its reappearance and set the home boys back with a 31-21 score.

Arlington traveled here for its second game with Edmonds and paid its respects by defeating the Purple and Gold five in a 33-26 game.

With three conference games remaining the Tigers drove on only to meet successive defeats by O'Dea and Marysville. The Irish held the Tigers in a 27-19 victory and the Tomahawks, still up to their old tricks, beat Edmonds by a 36-16 score.

Then in the final game came the break so long awaited by Tiger fans. Meeting Snohomish, at Snohomish, the Tigers swept over their opponents to establish their first conference victory to the tune of 20-17.

Thus at the conclusion of the season Edmonds had lost nine games and won one, no pretty record. This left the Tigers in the basement position trailing behind five other teams.

O'Dea, in fifth place, could not enter the county tournament however, by an agreement made before the season began. Edmonds then was accepted instead but was eliminated in quick order, being defeated twice.

As a finale Edmonds entered the Lakeside Tournament, where after losing, then winning and losing again the Tigers emerged in third place.

If all things check out and rumors now circulating are true the Tigers should come out with a bang-up team next year.

Junior High Basketball

Each year a dozen or so boys toil through the basketball season, practicing nearly as much as the high school players (of the upper three classes) and play a fast schedule but, in return, get little publicity for it. The Junior High casaba players this year aren't exceptions to this condition.

Few are those in E.H.S. who know that Edmonds is one of the members of a Junior High League composed of Marysville, Arlington, Lake Stevens, Monroe, Mukilteo and North and South Junior Highs of Everett; that the Tigers won no league games except by default and that ten frosh won their Junior High letters. The letter winners include: Jack Johnson, S. Johnson, R. Brooks, R. Walter, R. Ramaley, R. Meredith, E. Aillaud, D. Eney, D. Daniels, and F. Peterson.

Track

Although short of experienced men, this year's Tiger thinclads won their share of points and meets. In the first meet of the year Edmonds took fourth in a five-school meet. A week later the Tigers rated third in a six-school meet. Lakeside was the Tiger victim in the next meet and in the last meet of the year the Tigers came out on top in a tri-school meet with Richmond Beach and Lakeside.

Losing third place by a sixth of a point, Edmonds took fourth in the County Track Meet having 17 1/3 points.

Edmonds sent Hardman, F. Nupp, and W. Ewing to the District Meet. Hardman took the only Tiger first place in the County and F. Nupp took second in the District, accounting for Edmonds' three points there.

Tennis

Turning out under Coach G. F. Hatch who has returned to the courts after several years, the tennis squad looks forward to a promising year. Five lettermen and several recruits compose the squad.

Harry Kretzler holds down the first singles spot for this fourth successive year. Harry, fourth in the county last year, has started this season by shellacking opponents from Richmond Beach and Snohomish.

Bill Crump and Dick Coyne, also fourth placers last year, are repeating in the first doubles slot. For second singles, Harold Wilcox is slated to back Harry up. Chuck Murrill, the other letterman, Ronald Gough, and Harold Johnson are contending for the second doubles job.

Edmonds has played two other schools so far this season, winning two out of three from Richmond Beach and splitting four with Snohomish, last year's champs.

Girls' Sports

Speedball began the active year of athletics for the girls. Under the management of "Todda" Webb, a large turnout of girls started a busy season. The winning team of the intramural games, captained by Dorothy Korshaven feasted on ice cream and cake at the end of the season. The girls were kept busy preparing for the sportsday which was held at Edmonds on October 18. The Lettergirls served the cafeteria lunch. Monroe made the most points of all the schools competing. Dorothy Larmore, Marilyn Brine, "Todda" Webb, and "Babe" Ettrup represented Edmonds in the all-star game.

For the biggest turnout of the year, nearly one hundred girls participated in volleyball under the management of Geraldine Borgford. At the last regular turnout, the mothers of the girls turning out, were invited to witness the games and enjoy light refreshments served by the Lettergirls. Sportsday was held at Arlington on December 6. Edmonds sportsday squads set a new high when the five teams attending the meet brought back five wins. The all-stars from Edmonds were Joanne Henry, Dorothy Larmore, Marilyn Brine and Patsy Gibbens.

At the end of the first semester, Mrs. Fae McEachern resigned her position as coach. Mrs. McEachern had coached at Edmonds for four and one-half years. Mrs. Wilma Mitchell filled the position vacated by Mrs. McEachern.

Basketball season started out with a large turnout under the management of Carol Foard. The "Yellow Streaks" and the "Senior 1's" were the winners of the traditional ice cream and cake. Sportsday was held at Arlington February 28, with Snohomish as the hostess. Monroe was awarded first place. Dorothy Larmore, Marilyn Brine and Dorothy Korshaven made the all-star team.

Eighty baseball enthusiasts turned out under the leadership of Jean Hill. A combined sportsday for track and baseball was held at Stanwood May 16.

Track records for this season were kept by "Babe" Ettrup. The girls worked on their own, and at the end of the season results were tabulated, and the five highest in each event were sent to sportsday. Track events were the running broad jump, hop-skip-and-jump, fifty yard dash, wooden face, drop kick over the goal posts, baseball distance throw, soccer kick for distance and the basketball distance throw.

Tumbling season, due to priority on gas and tires, was short. The season was highlighted by tumbling during the County Tournament at Snohomish, and during half-time at home games. Marilyn Brine was captain, and Vernice Brine kept the costumes and equipment in top shape.

Hiking was headed by Shirley Dawes. Comparatively few girls completed the hikes this year, due to the confliction of other activities.

Marilyn Brine managed tennis and ping pong. The ping pong tournament was won by Irma Gust in the singles, while Dorothy Korshaven and Betty Stadler comprised the winning doubles team. Members of the tennis team were Marilyn Brine, Vernice Brine, Betty Stadler, June Sorensen, Irma Gust and Shirley Dawes.

Minor sports points were kept by Nona Yost. This included points for swimming, rowing, bowling, roller skating, ice skating, skiing, horseback riding, and golf.

Editors' Page

It's over! The copy is in, the engraving is all back, and everyone is at last breathing a huge sigh of relief.

But before we finally sign our names to this last page we'd like to thank several persons not previously mentioned for the work they did to make this book a successful issue.

Along the photography line we'd like to thank Dick Taylor, Allen Solemslie, and Mr. Ken Knudson for the help they gave us in obtaining, developing, and printing our pictures.

We also wish to express our gratitude toward Miss Dorothy Allison, who although no longer a member of our faculty, gave us invaluable aid along the advisory line.

We hope you will be as proud of your work as we are, so students, here it is—your annual and ours!

Betty, Grace, and Le Roy.
